MARCH 15, 1999

TOP SECRET - EYES ONLY

TO: BRIGADIER GENERAL MORRIS JORDAN
SAT COM HQ

FROM: THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

DEAR MOJO: Warren at State briefed me on this Texas town thing. We cooked up the biological accident story—the media seems to be buying it for now. Of course, I'll need you and all your egg salad techno-mumbo jumbo buddies at SAT COM with me on this, enhanced deniability and all that. Mojo, I just can't go with your B2 Domsday Option yet, it's too messy, politically and otherwise. I know we go back to the Mekong and Tet and you've always been a straight shooter with me...I've decided on the One Man Show. The CJC thinks it's got a chance and DOD has come up with this

██████████ to be the tactical expert, very highly regarded in the field. Something of an attitude problem, but kicks butt and takes names. Sorry about this, Mojo, but you know how it is. Be sure to say hi to Emily and the kids for me. Why don't you kiss the lovely ██████████ for me too, you old charmer. And Mojo...keep the B2 flying and fueled. Nobody's perfect.

Sincerely,

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

FROM: OPERATIONS CENTER

TO: LT. HARLAN T. REECE
FIELD AGENT - NINTH DIVISION

Report at once to El Cadron, TX where you will establish surveillance and possible aggressive ops vs. bogeys in all forms. Bogeys are non-terrestrial, repeat non-terrestrial and deemed unfriendly in the extreme. Sit reps confirm similarities to [REDACTED] at Yucca Flats and the [REDACTED] Bikini Atoll incidents. Desirability of less extreme solution in this case high. Tactical Expert [REDACTED] arriving in 3 days at 0700 hours. Commence full briefing of TE at once and begin operation. Transcript of last sit rep to follow. Via con Dios, Reece.

HQ: You expect us to believe...

HARRINGTON: I seen it myself! People are just DOGFOOD to these things! And that's just the regular ones, they got these stormtrooper robot goons with super weapons and armor...wait, I heard something out there...I gotta get outa...(screams...STATIC)

Note: Disk 1 / Disk 2

This is a 2-disc product. Make sure you start with Disc 1. When you get far enough into the mission, the system will prompt you to insert Disc 2.

TACTICAL BRIEFING

Field Agent Reece will set you up in the hotel. Your first mission: check out the location monitored by the flashing camera. Hey! There's bogeys crawlin' all over town...GET OUT THERE!

Switching cameras

- Hold down either the up, down, left, or right button on the D-pad and press the A-button to move to one of the four BattleCam locations.

As the BattleCam switches, you'll see the overhead map of [[El Cadron]] showing which BattleCam you're switching from and which BattleCam you're switching to.

Up + A [Cantina, BattleCam 1]

Down + A [Hotel Window, BattleCam 4]

EL CADRON OVERHEAD MAP

Cantina: the local watering hole, with some of the best gambling and the worst drinks in El Cadron. Everyone in town eventually passes through here.

Main Street: home to the discount store, arcade, and pawnbroker. What else does a town need? The new manager of the discount store has really gotten things moving. Rumor has it that not everything he sells was purchased legally. And not everything he buys is sold at his store.

Plaza Square: generally quiet during the day. The Day of the Dead festival is going on right now which means that nights get pretty wild.

Hotel Window: view of the tourist part of town. Gringo cowboys who come to buy feed for the season stay at these local stops. (Did you think there would be any other kind of tourism in this place?)

Target Acquisition

Use extreme caution. SAT COM doesn't know much about these Reticulans — aliens — but they do know this much: they're abducting humans and have the ability to take on the form of whomever they've kidnapped through some process of cellular regeneration. The bad news is that you won't know who's unfriendly until they pull a gun on you.

Be warned. You can't fire first and ask questions later. SAT COM breaks a lot of regs for a hot dog like you but there is one golden rule that even you must follow: Don't shoot humans! Reece has a problem with that, 'nuf said.

- To fire on legitimate bogeys, target with the D-pad and shoot by hitting the C-button.

NOTE: to bypass the opening video sequence and get directly to the action, choose a camera.

TECH SPECS

SAT COM has rigged you up with the finest surveillance system gringo dollars can buy. Pay close attention.

The display in the lower right corner of the screen shows camera activity and camera damage.

When a camera number is blue, it means you're in that location. When a camera number flashes red, it means something is happening in that location. You need to investigate. More than one camera can flash at a time.

When a camera number is black, it means that camera is out of energy because you've sustained too many hits.

The marks beside each camera number show how many hits the camera has taken. There are [[five]] marks for each camera that turn from green to yellow to red. When all the marks are red, your camera is out of energy.

ATTENTION: if a camera flashes but you can't get there for one reason or another, you will still see the energy being drained from that camera by the changing marks.

CAUTION: when the BattleCam energy reserves get low, the cameras lose targeting and image transmission abilities — the picture begins to degrade.

IMPORTANT: when a BattleCam loses energy, you must wait for it to be repaired by the agent in that location.

WARNING: if you let the agents get kidnapped, there will be no one left to repair your cameras. If you lose [[three]] cameras in any level, you will be terminated.

HINT: be careful of camera #4. Because it is positioned directly outside your hotel window, when it runs out of energy it becomes an easy target for the Reticulans. They will immediately overrun your location - and your file will be tagged [[former tactical expert - unsuccessful]].

Shields

In addition to firepower, each camera has a shield which can be activated while you go to another location.

- Activate and deactivate shields with the B-button.

Status of the shield for each camera is shown in a series of marks at the far right of the screen. The faster the lights cycle through the marks, the more damage your shield has sustained.

After a certain number of hits, the shield will break apart and be disabled for the remainder of that level.

Weapons

Your weapon is a remote auto-stabilizing photon-enhanced particle beam disruptor with stun capacity. It is enclosed in a bonded titanium casing to withstand maximal firepower. Internal refraction through diamond filaments permits motion sensitivity. This device triggers the flashing light when there is activity at the location.

WARNING: the best weapons — which are outfitted on these BattleCams — can only stun the Reticulans. Even if you hit them dead on, these aliens will revive themselves within minutes. If we have any hope of winning this war, it's up to you to find where the aliens have hidden their stock of more powerful weapons. Use your field ops to help with this particular mission. If you can't find the arsenal, chances of survival are minimal.

ROVERCAM

If you manage to stun enough aliens to keep them at bay, Reece will be able to break out the portable miniaturized reconnaissance device, also known as RoverCam. SAT COM has narrowed down the possible locations for the weapons arsenal. But since you're the expert, Reece must ask you to make the call.

Choosing Locations

- Hold down either the up, left, or right button on the D-pad and press the A-button to choose one of the three possible arsenal locations. Hold the down button on the D-pad and press the A-button to display the RoverCam map.

If you choose the correct location, you'll know what to do. If not, be forewarned. The longer you take to find the aliens, the more time they have to gather their forces to fight off your assault. Only two pieces of advice: first, don't choke if the aliens reveal themselves in their natural form; second, remember that Reece is your front man. Keep an eye on his health by watching the meter on the right side of the screen.

ALIEN TECHNOLOGY

Eggheads at HQ have compiled the following info on alien technology from intelligence reports gathered by SAT COM agents:

Arsenal Lock

SAT COM has determined that this piece of alien technology is highly dangerous. In fact, investigating scientists determined that it emitted a zero force chamber reading, which means that the lock is rigged to blow all of El Cadron off the map. You will have one chance and one chance only to open this nasty sucker.

- To set each digit to the correct number, you must select a box with the triangle cursor by using the left and right buttons on the D-pad. Press the up button on the D-pad to increase the number; press the down button on the D-pad to decrease the number.

- When all numbers are entered, press START to open the lock.

Robot Stormtroopers

Intelligence reports from Field Op Harrington JG suggested the existence of alien controlled robotic stormtroopers. Reports from Harrington were sketchy - contact was disestablished before debriefing completed.

SAT COM predicts that a successful raid on the alien weapons arsenal will alert the aliens to the possibility of human reprisal and prompt deployment of Robot Stormtroopers.

In the event of such an occurrence, standard procedure RED FLAG will commence: SAT COM will download periodic sit reps to keep you informed of the activities of any encroaching enemy.

While downloading satellite transmissions, SAT COM temporarily overrides local control of your BattleCam station. Control is reestablished after material from SAT COM has been reviewed.

Although SAT COM transmissions contain important data, you may bypass by pressing START and the A-button simultaneously.

Laser Cannon

See Agent DiSalvo for a full briefing on this technology.

PAUSE & OPTIONS

You can pause the action at any point by pressing START. Pausing the game brings up a HELP screen.

Pressing START from the HELP screen brings up the OPTIONS screen.

When you complete each level, it will appear in the OPTIONS screen, allowing you to access it at any time in the future.

The up and down buttons on the D-pad cycle through the menu options. You can restart the story where you left off by choosing continue, or you can restart any other level that you have been given access to.

A+B+C+START

By pressing all four buttons simultaneously, you can restart the entire game. If you press them a second time, you will be returned to the CD control panel.

CONFIDENTIAL

STRATEGIC HINTS

- Camera 4 is directly outside your window. Lose it and you get overrun by attackers immediately.
- Don't let your agent get kidnapped, or you don't get the clue to the lock on the alien weapons arsenal—and there will be no one around to repair your camera in Level 1 if it runs out of energy.
- If you see a human get kidnapped in Level 1, be careful. The next time you see them, they might have been turned into an alien themselves.
- Keep track of who fires at you. If you miss them once, they WILL fire again. They may not fire from exactly the same position though...
- BattleCam shields can only withstand a small number of laser blasts. The shield stays up even when you switch locations. BattleCams can sustain hits even when you are not there.
- Pressing the A-button and START button simultaneously will shortcut through SAT COM transmissions.
- Pressing the A-button plus a button on the D-pad will start a level even in the middle of an intro video segment.
- Targets vary from game to game. Don't try to learn the order.
- Pay attention to what scene - not what targets - comes before the agent abduction scene at each camera.
- On Level 4: if your camera is almost destroyed, close the shield and shoot like crazy - you might get lucky. There are no humans to hit in Level 4. (Note: you'll need to save shield strength to keep this option open).

- If multiple locations are being attacked, switch to each one and close the shields before getting into a battle.
